The Mace.
April 1.
His Honor.
By W. A. de GRAVES

"His Honor—the Lieutenant Governor." Those five words boomed out by Sergeant at Arms Thomas at 4:45 on Saturday evening, brought home to members of the legislature that the 1927 session was over. All they had to do after that was listen to the usual formalities, collect their indemnity and mace chains, and go home.

And Mr. speaker, sir, let it be recorded that few of them stood upon the order of their going. Just about, as the hon. the lobby that has known them for the past six or seven weeks missed them on Sunday.

There was only one successful man at the legislature on Saturday afternoon, and that was that same sergeant-at-arms. Not because he didn't move, for another year the clock had, the three words, and the mace would have him no more, but because no new mace had been specified in the estimates Mr. speaker.

It appears, sir, that the mace which graces the table when the House is in session is of date, it bears upon its head a date, it is made of silver, and it is not the kind of crown which the good queen Victoria has in mind, but the kind of crown which the good queen Victoria has in mind, but the kind of crown which the good queen Victoria has in mind.

IMMIGRATION CRISIS IN HANKOW

Settlers Come in Numbers

6,830 During Fiscal Year as Compared With Previous 2,520

Registrations at the Immigration Hall for the Dominion government fiscal year ending March 31, totalled 6,830, according to figures compiled by E. E. Wilson, Dominion government immigration agent.

This figure shows a tremendous increase over the previous fiscal year when a total of 2,520 registered. During the calendar year 1926 a total of 6,148 immigrants registered as against 1,184 in the calendar year 1925.

The influx for March of this year totalled 1,430 as compared to 419 in the corresponding month a year ago, thus making one of the highest months on record.

On Waiting List. The week witnessed a heavy influx the total number not yet available as very few have registered. There were a great number waiting to affix their signatures.

Included in the new arrivals were eight British families brought out under the British Empire 2000 family scheme. The British Empire 2000 family scheme was distributed to Edmonton, Winnipeg, and other cities.

MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION HOLDS SESSION

Resolution Will Likely Be Passed and Forwarded To City Council

Sunday evening concerts, and race tracks, which allegedly attract an element not desired to the city, were the principal topics discussed at a well attended meeting of the Edmonton Ministerial Association being held in the Y. W. C. A. today.

It is likely that resolutions condemning the advent of further race tracks for Edmonton and the continuance of Sunday evening concerts will be passed during the afternoon session, according to Mr. W. J. Haggerty, secretary of the association.

The action of the Ministerial Association will be presented to the city council when the question of the application for a lease of the race track, which is being offered for a spring and fall meeting, is before the council.

Why the Spring Show?

Edmonton's Spring livestock show is not just an amusement event run by the Exhibition Association to give entertainment and with the object of getting revenue by selling admission tickets.

The Spring Show is a business venture, undertaken for business reasons, operated at the financial risk of the taxpayers of the city, for a very definite and practical purpose. That purpose is to help improve the quality and increase the numbers of the livestock grown upon the farms in the country that is tributary to Edmonton.

Toward the accomplishment of that purpose the Spring Show helps in several effective ways:

1. It encourages friendly rivalry among stock-growers in the production of farm animals of all classes and breeds, by offering rewards for superior quality.

2. It generates interest among farmers, particularly among farm boys and girls, in the livestock branch of the farming business, and in the keeping and rearing of purebred and high grade animals.

3. It provides an opportunity for farmers to buy, and to find out where and from whom they can buy, the best breeding stock that is grown on this continent.

These are some of the very direct ways in which the Spring Show seeks to help, and does help, to accomplish the very important object for which it was instituted.

It is not more important to the farming community than it is to the city of Edmonton, livestock and the products of livestock have done more to make Edmonton what it is than the export of grain. And upon that branch of agriculture, rather than upon grain export, must depend the future of the city.

The packing plants and the creameries are already among the largest employers of labor in the city. They are capable of indefinite extension. The market for their products is almost without limit, provided the animals being raised are the right kind of animals and are looked after in the right way.

It is only a matter of increasing the livestock on the farms in the country around Edmonton and these manufacturing establishments will be enlarged, their payrolls will be enlarged, the export of their products will increase, and the amount of work they correspondingly increase.

Keeping livestock compels the employment of more labor on the farm, and its employment all the year round. That, in turn, means more customers for Edmonton stores and more business for everybody who depends directly or indirectly upon out-of-town trade.

Edmonton people should patronize the Spring Show. For entertainment, of course. But also to support a factor that is playing a useful part in building up a type of farming that cannot be built up without making Edmonton a bigger and more prosperous city.
